R. Harmon To Conduct At Concert

Dance at Willard Follows Program Saturday, May 5

ON SATURDAY evening, May 5, the main ballroom of the Willard Hotel will again be the scene of the annual Spring Concert and Dance given by the University Glee Clubs. The concert program begins at 8:30 p.m. and will feature selections by both the Mixed Chorus and the Men's and Women's Clubs.

The annual Spring Dance will follow the concert and continue until midnight. Tickets are $1.20, tax included, and may be obtained from members of both clubs or at the office of the Alumni Secretary, first floor, Columbian House.

Dr. Robert H. Harmon, Director of the Glee Clubs, has announced that the soloists on the program will be Betty Lou Trowbridge, Pauline Gish, and Theresa Nye. Judy Conklin will again be piano accompanist. Dr. Harmon will continue his practice of inviting all former members of the Glee Clubs who are present to join in the last number, "Kamenoi Ostrow."

THIRD AND LAST of the new University Activities List will be released today. It was announced last week by co-director, Darhl Foreman. Copies will be mailed to presidents of organizations and a few will also be distributed in the Student Club.

Dean Fox Schedules National Educational Parley Saturday

FINAL CONFERENCE OF the annual series under the direction of the National Education Association will be held Saturday, May 5, in Government 201 at 2 p.m. Supervised by a panel of distinguished educators from surrounding areas, the conference will close an "unusually successful" series begun last October.

These series of talks presented jointly by the School of Education and the District Chapter of the Department of Supervision and Curriculum Development of the National Education Association, attracted over 100 prominent supervisors and superintendents in the District.

Dean James H. Fox announced that through the assistance of United Airlines, six tuition scholarships for teachers of Washington and vicinity interested in curriculum research in the field of aviation will be given for any of the three summer sessions of the School of Education. Applicants

Dr. W. Durand Banquet Guest For Engineers

DR. WILL DURAND, president of the National Academy of Science, and one of the foremost research physicists of the country will be the principal speaker at the annual Engineers Banquet scheduled for the Roger Smith Hotel, Saturday, May 12.

At the Banquet, student awards will be made by the Societies for Civil, Mechanical, and Electrical Engineers, and also by Theta Tau and Sigma Tau, respective professional and honorary engineering fraternities active on campus. Gold keys will be presented to members of the Engineers' Council for their year of service, and the president will also receive a small, golden gavel.

George Kilpatrick, President of the Engineers' Council, sponsor of the affair, has announced that tickets, which sell for $2.75 each, will go on sale this week and may be purchased from members of the Council.

The Engineers' Council is composed of two delegates from each of the active engineering societies and fraternities here at the University and of one delegate-at-large from the entire Engineering School. The principal annual social activities of the Engineers' Council have always been the Engineers' Ball and the Engineers' Banquet.

Club Closes Early

STUDENT CLUB will close at 3:30 p.m. next Friday, May 4, and serving ends at 3:15, announced Miss Ernestine Dunmire, manager. The buffet supper of the Spring Festival that evening will be served in the Student Club, and the place must be cleared early to allow for the buffet supper preparations.

should apply at Dean Fox's office in Building D.

An afternoon conference is being planned to discuss human relations problems between superintendents and teachers. The meeting will be held in Government 101 at 2 p.m. and will be followed by a tea in Columbian House. Members of Pi Lambda Theta, women's national honorary education fraternity, are sponsoring the tea.

This summer conference is given by graduates of Dean Fox's class in supervision on July 23.

Wm. C. Johnstone

Johnstone Attends Frisco Conference As Orient Advisor

DEAN OF THE SCHOOL of Government, William Crane Johnstone, will leave around May 15, for San Francisco, where he will direct the Institute of Pacific Relations which will provide assistance on Far Eastern problems to United Nations Conference delegates and the press.

While in San Francisco, Dean Johnstone will direct eight broadcasts on Pacific problems. On May 20, he will broadcast on "The Future of Japan," the subject of his latest book to be published by the Oxford University Press, the middle of June.

All his courses scheduled for the first summer session will be given during the second session at the same hours. In the first session, however, a new graduate course has been added. "Geographical Factors in Foreign Policy" will be given by Dr. Karl J. Pelzer.

Dr. Pelzer, a regional specialist in OWI, was formerly acting head of the Department of Geography and associate in the Walter Hines Page School at Johns Hopkins.

Recent Show Donates Sets To University

CUE AND CURTAIN, the University play group, was presented with the entire sets from the play, "The Searching Wind," by Mr. Herman Schumlin, producer, after the play closed last Saturday night at the National Theater at the end of a two-week run.

Five truckloads of scenery and drops were delivered to the members of Cue and Curtain at Lisner Auditorium, where the last showing of "Elizabeth the Queen" was given to Cue and Curtain, besides versity students.

The play, "The Searching Wind," included several scene changes, and the University benefited to the extent that all were included in the gift. Two fireplaces, scenery for a hotel room in Rome, a cafe in Paris, a Washington drawing room, and a hotel in Berlin were given to Cue and Curtain, besides about a dozen doors and three 40-foot drops for backings.

The equipment was donated to the University because, according to union regulations, scenery used in one professional play cannot be used in any other professional play. If "The Searching Wind" were to open later, the scenery would be re-used, but that would have entailed storage and transportation difficulties.

Phi Pi Ep Elects

PHI PI EPSILON, foreign service sorority, will hold a business meeting Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Phi Mu rooms of Sorority Hall for the purpose of electing officers. The election will follow a tea and discussion under the leadership of Dr. Lowell J. Ragatz.

Mrs. Clapper Charms Diners; Grayson Gets Senior Award

HAVING LIVED IN Washington since Wilson's administration, Mrs. Raymond Clapper vivaciously presented a glimpse of "Behind the Scenes in Washington" to the guests at the Women's Athletic Association Award Banquet last Thursday.

Her talk was punctuated with personal experiences and impressions of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the late Wendell Willkie, Marion Anderson and many other capital personalities. When told she was to sit next to President Roosevelt at a White House dinner, Mrs. Clapper unwittingly said to the aide, "How awful!" only to find the late President a charming dinner partner.

Stressing particularly the San Francisco Conference, Mrs. Clapper betrayed her interest in the vital issues facing the nation today and the influence of her journalist husband.

Following Mrs. Clapper's inside story of Washington, ex-president Betty June Karle made the awards for the year. Lorna Grayson received the coveted Senior award

Games, Booths, Dancing on Lisner Climax Festival

VOTING FOR A May Queen to reign Friday at Student Council's Spring Festival will begin in the Student Club tomorrow, Alice Robert, social chairman, disclosed.

With the polls open from noon to 1:30 and from 5-7 tomorrow and Thursday, votes will cost 10 cents, proceeds to go to the Red Cross. Activity card holders only will be eligible to cast their ballot from the list of ten sorority girls.

The candidates include: Betty Weethee, Alpha Delta Pi; Molly Edwards, Chi Omega; Peggy James, Delta Zeta; Patricia Neill, Kappa Delta; Florence Crawford, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Alice Stevenson, Phi Mu; Anne Barney, Phi Sigma Sigma; Jill Medby, Pi Beta Phi; Lois Smith, Sigma Kappa; and Inez Lester, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Crowning of the May Queen at 7:30 by Dr. Robert Harmon will open festivities for the entire student body. Taking on a carnival atmosphere, the campus will be transformed into booths sponsored by the sororities with dancing on the Lisner Terrace. Sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi, dances will be sold at 10 cents for a set of three.

High school seniors will be guests of the University from 4-10 p.m. The day will begin with a tour of the campus, by Mortar Board followed by an Assembly in Lisner at 5. Christopher B. Garrett, Dean of the Junior College, will speak on "What You Should Expect From College." There will be other talks on campus life from Virginia Nalls, activities director of Student Council, and Mary Beth Shepherd, president of Mortar Board.

Cue and Curtain will give scenes from "Elizabeth the Queen," and the winners of the All-U Sing Contest, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi and Sigma Chi will present musical selections.

A buffet supper will be served in the Student Club for the seniors and their sponsors with Aubrey Crump acting as toastmaster.

given to the girl for outstanding service to W. A. A.

Three Junior Senior Awards were presented to Mary Miller and Catherine Prentiss, seniors, and Jeanne Read, a junior. Major letters were won by Virginia Phillips (1025 points); Barbara Sauber (1075 points); Betty Woods (1090 points); Ada Biskar (1285 points); Ruth Fleischman (1100 points); Laura McNeese (1085 points). Stars for 1500 points or over were given to Barbara Lyddane (2055 points); Mary Miller (2555 points); and Rosemary Trone (2185 points).

Miss Ruth Atwell acted as toastmistress for Mrs. William Crane Johnstone, who was unable to attend because of illness.

Only Six?

• WELL, SIR, WE WENT IN and had a good long talk with Fred Nessell, the University Business Manager, last week relative to the sudden closing of Columbian House. We listened very attentively, and as nearly as we can remember he promised that the place would definitely reopen, but couldn't possibly hazard a guess as to when.

He took us on a tour of the partly rejuvenated downstairs lounge, and exhibited the ink-stained rugs and shoddy furniture. The slip-covers, he explained were so messy they had to be sent out and laundered.

Honestly, the place looked nicer, neater, and cleaner than we have ever seen it before. If it's kept locked up like a mausoleum, it'll keep its bloom forever.

Then he said that actually, only about half a dozen students had been using the place. That they had made it a sort of hangout, and had misused the facilities consistently.

We disagreed, and when he asked us to name more than six people we couldn't. It's tough enough getting students to express their opinions in this University, but even tougher to compile any sort of a list of names.

But, we still think that more than six people used it before it was closed, and still think that lots more than six would use it if it were reopened now.

But, this is another losing battle. Our few words will not cause the reopening of Columbian House, nor will they make any Administrator in this University change his plans or methods.

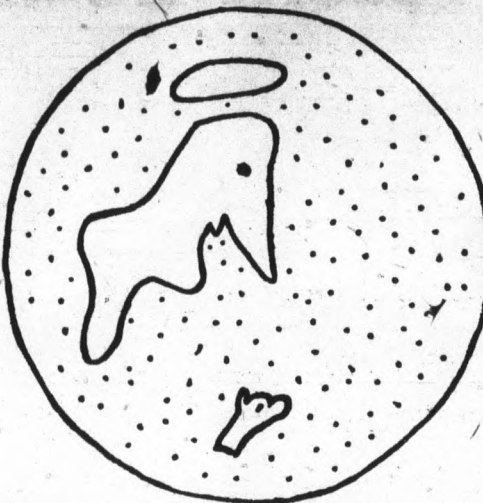

All we can do now is hope that enough students will complain to the Business Office. Nessell said he hadn't had one complaint and therefore (by an amazing process of deduction) the students couldn't be missing the use of the place.

Perhaps if more than half a dozen raise their voices in objection it may hasten the reopening.

If not, all we can do is sit and wait until the place is made available to all of the student body, and we have no word as to when that will be.

We hate to think that the only cool, shady spot during the very, very, hot Washington summer might be closed until it can be redecorated, or until next fall, or maybe until after Japan is defeated.

Rheba the Little Amoeba

Does that mean there's no place to go after 7:30 at night?

The Tie That Blinds

O, some may long for the soothing touch
Of lavender, cream or mauve,
But the ties I wear must possess the glare
Of a red-hot kitchen stove.
The books I read and the life I lead
Are sensible, sane and mild.
I like calm hats and I don't wear spats,
But I want my neckties wild!
Give me a wild tie, brother,
One with a cosmic urge!
A tie that will swear and rip and tear
When it sees my old blue serge.
O, some will say that a gent's cravat
Should only be seen, not heard,
But I want a tie that will make men cry
And render their vision blurred.
I yearn, I long, for a tie so strong
It will take two men to tie it.
If such there be, just show it to me—
Whatever the price I'll buy it!
Give me a wild tie, brother,
One with a lot of sins!
A tie that will blaze in a hectic haze
Down where the vest begins.

Review

• SELDOM IN THE HISTORY of the College Theater do Drama Clubs reach such a peak of perfection as to be comparable in all respects to professional work of the first water. Yet Cue and Curtain's presentation of "Elizabeth the Queen" last Friday night was at least that, if not more. For the first time in several seasons, Floyd L. Sparks' group did a truly first-rate, wholly palatable, unquestionably masterful job.

Top honors go to Cay Knockey, whose brilliant interpretation of Queen Elizabeth was dynamic and forceful and at the same time tender and sympathetic. To be handed a role in an Anderson play, which almost always means speeches of unusual length, and to be required to play a red-headed, ugly, tempestuous old queen madly in love with a young noble, was considered so difficult as to require the professional company to obtain the services of no less a person than Lynn Fontanne.

Cay Knockey was Elizabeth incarnate.

Well handled also, were the performances turned in by Frank Falkenhainer as Essex, Lt. Bob Holmes as Cecil, John McClure as Raleigh, Don Balfour as the Fool and Phyllis Westwood as Penelope.

The greatest improvement over the previous shows was to be found in the design of the sets. Sparks was indeed fortunate in obtaining the services of so capable a technician and artist as Ray Tallman. The beauty of the sets and costumes was so striking as to cause spontaneous applause from Friday night's audience as the curtain opened for the third scene of the second act. The oh's and ah's that greeted the opening were reminiscent of the reactions of spectators at the Monument Grounds during the pre-war 4th of July fireworks display.

This is the first time in the recent history of Cue and Curtain that Floyd L. Sparks has had an opportunity to devote most of his time to play direction. On other shows he was a one man gang as he directed, produced, designed, coached, painted, constructed, and advised. It is only just that he be given a major portion of the credit for the success of last Friday's performance. For the first time he was given a real opportunity to show what he could do as a director (he was not hired as a designer or stage-hand), and he produced in a manner equal to if not better than the finest traditions and performances of the College theater.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editors:

With the last coke served, the last dance ended and the Student Club dark, Friday night, April 20th, wound up the 1945 season of Buff 'n' Blue. We the Co-Directors of Buff 'n' Blue want to give public thanks to all of you who with either your patronage, appearance on our entertainment, or other aid helped us to make this year's dances a success to us. We hope you felt they were too.

Without your enthusiasm, your willingness to perform and your cooperation in getting the shows and equipment together, we might have failed beautifully. As it is, we feel victorious and while we're glad the season is over—for with it go numerous headaches—it was fun, and it was a pleasure to serve. So, thanks for your inspiration.

Ten Years Ago —In the Hatchet

• CUE AND CURTAIN PRESENTED "R. U. R." May 7, 8 and 9. Written by Karel Capek, "R. U. R." is a fantastic melodrama of the future in which robots, invented by man revolt and destroy their makers.

Willard Hotel was to be the scene of the annual Glee Club Concert and Dance. Leon Brusiloff's 13-piece orchestra was to accompany the club and play at the dance afterward. Songs of that year which are still included in the club's repertoires are Bortniansky's "Lo, A Voice To Heaven Sounding," and Rubenstein's "Kamenoi Ostrov."

Vinnie De Angelis led the Colonials to their third straight win, trimming Davis-Elkins 4 to 3. Besides going the full route on the mound, De Angelis got a single. He was leading the team in batting with a .428 average.

After much preparation, the Fiesta had come off with a bang. Boxing matches were foremost among the entertainments. Woody Saugstod, Golden Glove champ of the District, showed up well in a bout against "Flea" Herron.

In a letter to the Student Council, President Marvin praised the students for their cooperation during the year in stimulating student activities.

Inside Track On . . .

N. Herbert Halberstadt

• IF YOU HAPPEN to see a dark haired young man with hazel eyes trotting across the campus with a camera in one hand and a stack of bills in the other, you should have no trouble in recognizing N. Herbert Halberstadt.

Herb was born in Philadelphia 19 years ago, but has spent 16 of those years in New York. His one and only reason for coming to Washington was to attend the University.

And that seems to have been a very excellent reason, too, as far as the University is concerned, because since he has been here, Herb has been one of the most active people around school.

This year his position as Photographic Editor of the Cherry Tree and Business Manager of the Hatchet have taken up most of his time, along with his job as secretary of Phi Alpha fraternity.

Other activities which have kept Herb busy during his three years at the University have been Hillel Councilorship, Religious Council, Men's Rifle Club, University Band, and Society for Advancement of Management. His work on the Cherry Tree and the Hatchet merited his membership in Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity.

Next year Herb will add to his list of activities the associate editorship of the Cherry Tree and presidency of Phi Alpha.

Herb's favorite interests in life are "escapist" literature, photography, and stamp collecting. Good symphony music puts him to sleep, and his pet peeve is to see people jitterbug to slow, dreamy music.

With engineering as his major, Herb some day hopes to become a chemical engineer.

• DECORATED—Lt. Col. Lynn Frank "Woody" Woodworth, prominent University alumnus is pictured above being presented with the Bronze Star award for "meritorious service in direct support of combat operations." Known internationally for his work in athletics and education, he was Director of Athletics at Roosevelt High School, and prior to his entrance into the service, Assistant Principal of Central High School.

Adaptable Blue-Eyed Blonde Increases Faculty Family

• A BLOND, DIMPLED, blue-eyed darling has been added to the faculty family it was announced in the School of Government Wednesday. The announcement further stated that the almost new arrival (she has been around about 13 months) is a very adaptable person taking to her new life with great ease and much glee!

Seniors Wanted For Banquet Skit

• DEADLINE FOR PAYMENT of senior class dues and for acceptance of reservations for the annual dinner has been set as May 11, Mary Beth Shepherd, secretary-treasurer of the senior class announced last week.

Miss Shepherd also stated that Gerry Lock and Fred O'Connell are composing a skit to be presented at the dinner. They have asked that all seniors interested in taking part should attend try-outs at Columbian House on Monday, May 7 from 12 to 1 o'clock or on Tuesday, May 8 from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

The dinner will be held at the Roger Smith Hotel on May 29 at 6:15 p.m. All students are invited to attend.

DUKE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF NURSING DURHAM, N. C.

The next class will be admitted September 27, 1945. Only one class is enrolled each year.

Basic entrance requirements are intelligence, aptitude for nursing, and character. The academic requirements are 16 units of High School and at least one semester each of College chemistry and Biology or Zoology. Annual tuition cost is $100 and covers the cost of instruction and maintenance. Duke University School of Nursing offers the B.S. in Nursing upon completion of the 3-year nursing course and 60 semester hours of acceptable College credits.

Duke University School of Nursing also participates in the U. S. Nurse Cadet Corps program. Under this plan, students who pledge themselves to continue in nursing throughout the war, receive free tuition, uniforms and a small monthly stipend.

Application forms and catalogue can be obtained from: Dean, Duke University School of Nursing, Duke Hospital, Durham, North Carolina.

Marvin Cites War Changes in Report

• EXPLAINING the change that has come over the University during recent years because of the war, President Cloyd Heck Marvin, in the new George Washington Victory Council "Confidential from Washington," said that we have been more fortunate than many other schools.

As an example, he cited the University pre-war enrollment figures, 11,000, as compared with this year's enrollment of 9,000, and the loss to other schools which in some cases amounted to 90 per cent or more.

The transition from a majority male enrollment before the war to a female dominated campus, the accelerated plan for permitting a student to complete work for a degree in a much shorter period, the various necessary curriculum changes in the schools of the Uni-
